Former butcher's could become 'micropub'

Anders Larsson

Chief reporter | anders@viewnews.co.uk

THERE are plans to turn an empty shop unit in Seaton town centre into a micropub, with a change of use planning application having been submitted for the former Lloyd Maunder butchers premises in Queen Street.

Applicant Gary Millar, from Whitstable in Kent, describes a micropub as "not a standard pub but more like a traditional ale house for a comparatively small number of customers".

In his application he said: "Focus will be on real ale and farmhouse cider, but also wines and spirits (with mixers only) and non-alcoholic beverages.

"There will be no irresponsible drinks promotions such as 2 for 1, and pre-mixed alcopops appealing to younger people will not be sold. I will also offer traditional pub food and snacks.

"No amplified music will be played. No service bar will be built. Customers' orders will be taken on the shop floor and drinks served to hand. Only the front room will be used for public consumption, which at 29.2 square metres strictly limits the amount of customers that can be entertained."

In addition, there are plans for the outside area to be used for seating during daylight hours.

Mr Millar, who already runs a micropub called The Handsome Sam in Whitstable, said the equivalent of two full time jobs (one full-time and two part-time) would be created.

He said: "It should feel like a small country pub despite its town centre location, meaning it will be attractive to discerning drinkers out for a quiet pint or two. I expect my micropub to appeal to more mature customers who are sensible about drinking."

The opening hours listed in the application are 9am-11.30pm (Monday-Saturday) and 12noon-11pm on Sundays.

But, in another section of the application, Mr Millar says the micropub would only trade in busy periods.

Mr Millar explained: "Most micropubs trade during lunchtime and in the evening and close during quiet periods. The licencing application addresses steps to prevent crime, disorder and public nuisance."

But there is some concern in the community. At the time of writing, four members of the public had made formal submissions to East Devon District Council as part of the planning process (three against the proposal and one in favour).

There is a fear of noise and anti-social behaviour, with one resident saying: "All the neighbours have genuine worries and concerns. We do not believe Seaton is the right location for a venture like this, especially backing on to a residential area, with predominantly older residents."

"Obviously, we are very anxious about this proposal as we dread the disruption to our community."

Another one said: "Having a micropub does not respect local context and is out of character of Queen Street. There are a number of shops and a lot of residential homes on and near this street."

"The proposal would demonstrably harm the amenities enjoyed by local residents, in particular the privacy and the right to enjoy a quiet and safe residential environment."

"The hours of opening proposed would mean a lot of noise, particularly at the closing time."

But a third resident told EDDC: "I am so glad someone has chosen Seaton to open a micropub. When pubs are closing at two to three per day, how wonderful when a new one is proposed."

"Having been to many micropubs around the country it will be a breath of fresh air (ale) to have one local. These are great places to meet new people and have a well kept beer without music, pool tables, etc.

"These places are a haven, there are a lot of people who have given up on the usual pubs and this is what we need. Good luck with the plans and I will be there when its open."

"I hope and trust that the council and local community get behind this project and give their full support."

In terms of councils and public bodies, only EDDC's Environmental Health department has made formal comment so far, recommending that the outside area should not be used for drinking or seating at anytime."

The application will appear on an agenda of Seaton Town Council's planning committee in the near future. The committee will make a recommendation to EDDC, which will make a decision in due course.

TV documentary puts spotlight on credit unions

NOT-for-profit credit union Westcountry Savings and Loans has called for more awareness of ethical finance following the premiere of a new BBC documentary.

'A Matter of Life and Debt' explores the important and life changing work carried out by credit unions up and down the country.

The documentary series marks the first time that credit unions and the work that they do have been given a dedicated mainstream series.

The continuing broadcast coincided with International Credit Union Day on October 19th, which is an opportunity to raise awareness for the ever growing not for profit financial sector all over the world.

Jackie Simpson, general manager of Westcountry Savings and Loans remarks that since the first episode aired on October 9th, membership applications have increased overnight, signposted by the program.

Ms Simpson said: "For much of the public, this documentary will be the first time that they discover credit unions, and how they are very different from banks and pay day loan companies. This represents a significant moment in time for credit unions all over the country.

"We have been working to improve the lives of Westcountry citizens over the past 13 years, and as a not-for-profit, our motivation is to serve communities and not shareholders".

As of September 2016, less than two per cent of the UK public use credit unions, and Ms Simpson added that more awareness of alternative finance is key to empower individuals with increased support and options: "Credit unions have a history of giving people access to fair finance.

"For many financially excluded people, their options are limited, and are often forced to approach pay day lenders to be able to pay for necessities such as school uniforms or car repairs.

"Often it is credit unions who work with excluded individuals and debt management charities to provide solutions to get people back on their feet and improve their credit rating – which is essential to register for basic services such as mobile phone contracts or utility bills.

"This documentary helps support the credit union movement, and we warmly welcome the exposure".

Westcountry Savings and Loans (formerly Somerset Savings and Loans) has more than 2,200 members. Members' savings total £2.2m of which £1.4m is out on loan in Devon and Somerset.

The credit union recently expanded to serve Devon as well as Somerset.

The organisation has a small number of staff, with the majority of expertise provided by volunteer directors and board members. The organisation works together with debt management charities and local services such as Step Change.

Ottery man pleads guilty to causing suffering to donkeys

RAYMOND Grigg of Longdogs Lane in Ottery St Mary has pleaded guilty to causing unnecessary suffering to three donkeys and failing to meet the needs of five donkeys when he appeared at Exeter Magistrates' Court recently, following a prosecution by the RSPCA.

The donkeys were found to have suffered from prolonged neglect when they were left with chronically overgrown hooves.

Inspector Marie Griffiths said: "Equines require a lot of specialist care and it is important to remember that people who have animals have a responsibility to look after them properly, and ensure they receive the proper veterinary treatment and care when they need it."

Magistrates also ordered Grigg to carry out 80 hours of unpaid work and pay £385 in costs, a £300 fine and a £85 victim surcharge.

Hannah Bryer, head of welfare at The Donkey Sanctuary, said: "Owning donkeys can be a hugely rewarding experience and a wonderful privilege, however they require caring and compassionate management to ensure they lead healthy and enriched lives.

"We would encourage anyone who currently owns or is thinking about acquiring donkeys, to seek advice on how to best meet their welfare needs before taking on the commitment.

"Sadly when our donkey welfare adviser first saw the five donkeys in this case it was obvious that they were in need of immediate veterinary care.

"Some had significantly overgrown hooves, whilst another had suffered a wound to its leg and shoulder which was affecting its ability to walk.

"Following specialist veterinary treatment and investigative tests, the condition of two of the donkeys was such that sadly euthanasia was considered the most humane treatment option.

"Happily with the support of our vets, farriers and farm staff, the other three donkeys have made a good recovery and are living amongst other donkeys at one of our sanctuaries.

"We are grateful to the combined efforts of the RSPCA, Devon and Cornwall Police and St David's Vets in investigating this case and we are happy to provide a safe and secure future for the three donkeys now in our care."

Yeovil road improvements under way

CONTRACTORS have arrived on site this week as a major scheme to upgrade key junctions and improve traffic flow on the western side of Yeovil gets under way.

The Western Corridor scheme is a multi-million-pound package of improvements to increase the capacity of several junctions and upgrade links for pedestrians and cyclists.

The scheme will also support the delivery of more than 1,500 homes and 20 hectares of employment land nearby.

Mobilisation begins this week with teams from contractor Alun

Griffith (Contractors) Ltd arriving to set up a compound off Lysander Road.

Initial preparatory works will take place off the carriageway and cause minimal disruption with the main routes into Yeovil kept clear in the run-up to Christmas.

The public can find out more about the plans, meet the teams and ask questions about what the work involves at two pre-construction drop-in events arranged for early next month.

For residents, on Monday, November 6th between 3pm to 7pm at The Parish Room, Abbey Community Centre, Abbey Manor Park.

And, for businesses, on Wednesday, November 8th between 3pm to 7pm at the conference suite (first floor of the main stand) at Yeovil Town Football Club.

Cllr John Woodman, Somerset County Council's Cabinet Member for Highways, said: "The arrival of our contractor is a big moment and signals the start of this hugely important scheme.

"Everyone who lives or works in Yeovil will be aware of the need for improvements to the road network.

"We've had to demonstrate this need and fight hard to secure funding from central Government.

"Not only will this scheme ease congestion and make it easier for people to walk or cycle into town, it will also support all the planned development in this area – unlocking land for new homes, creating jobs and boosting the local economy."

A spokesman for Alun Griffiths (Contractors) Ltd said: "We are pleased to have the opportunity to work with Somerset County Council and South Somerset District Council to deliver the planned improvements on the Western Corridor of Yeovil.

"We will work considerably with the community and do our best to minimise disruption to road users during the various construction phases of the programme."

You can find out more about the scheme by visiting www.travelsomerset.co.uk/westerncorridor

Ticket machine reminder

FOLLOWING a six-month transitional period, East Devon District Council are reminding their car park users that their pay and display machines now only accept the new £1 coins.

Notices have been placed on all East Devon's ticket machines reminding customers that the old £1 will no longer be accepted when making a ticket purchase.

When the new £1 coin was introduced earlier this year, East Devon District Council's car parks team invested £5,900 in new coin mechanisms.

Talk on Passchendaele Beer's Congregational Hall

THE experiences of a junior officer on the Western Front during the First World War will be the subject of a forthcoming talk organised by the newly-formed Beer branch of the Royal British Legion.

Huntly Gordon was a young officer in the Royal Field Artillery who arrived at Ypres just before the Battle of Passchendaele, and served through to the German Spring Offensive of 1918.

He published a vivid and personal account of his experiences, entitled 'The Unreturning Army', recognised as one of the best memoirs of the Great War.

His son, David, himself a former Army officer, will describe his father's experiences, and his own work in bringing the book back into print, in an illustrated talk at the Congregational Hall, Fore Street, Beer at 7.30pm on

Anders Larsson

Chief reporter anders@viewnews.co.uk

Wednesday, November 8th.

This will be only two days before the centenary of the end of the Third Battle of Ypres (often known as Passchendaele), which began on July 31st 1917 and lasted until November 10th.

Four men from Beer were killed at Passchendaele, and another was wounded and won the Military Cross.

This event will help to convey the terrible conditions in which they fought.

Admission to the talk will be free, with donations if desired, to the Beer branch of the Royal British Legion.

Copies of 'The Unreturning Army' will be on sale after the talk.

VOLUNTEERING in Hospiscare's Seaton shop can lead to a lot of things - including hosting a fashion show and overseas travel.

June Shaw, 61, is part of a core group of volunteers who want to recruit at least five more people.

She said: "It's a lovely crowd to work with - a happy place to be.

"I serve a lot on the front desk and really enjoy meeting the customers.

"Volunteering has also led onto other things.

"I have signed up for Hospiscare's Icelandic Trek next year, so I'm currently fundraising too.

"I'm also hosting a charity fashion show on November 23rd, and selling high street goods being supplied by Travelling Trends at drastically reduced prices."

The shop needs at least five more volunteers, and manager Louisa Dayman commented: "I couldn't do my job without the volunteers.

"They are fabulous but I could really do with some more.

"We are like a little family in the shop, we know each other so well and support each other through life's up and downs.

"Both June and I have had relatives cared for by Hospiscare, so we have a personal connection to the service.

"I hope anyone reading this who is thinking about volunteering will come in for a chat, it's always a flexible arrangement and our volunteers do as much or as little as they have time for.

"We'd love to recruit some local people, the more the merrier."

June, who has volunteered for three years, said: "Shortly after my husband died four and a half years ago, I decided to give up work.

"When someone close to you dies it brings it home to you that there is more to life than work, but I still wanted to have something to do.

Hospiscare shop manager Louisa Dayman with volunteer June Shaw

"A friend of mine already volunteered at the shop so I just came along with her.

"Now I volunteer twice a week on Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

"I don't know what Seaton would do without Hospiscare nurses, so I really love being able to help by volunteering and fund-raising."

The fashion show she is hosting will be in The Gateway on November 23rd from 7pm-7.30pm.

Tickets are available from the shop at £6 each.

Council to send 100th birthday cards

SEATON residents turning 100 years of age will get a birthday card from the town council.

The idea came from Councillor Martin Pigott, who tabled a motion that Seaton residents celebrating their 100th birthday should be sent a card by the town council.

Councillor Pigott got the idea when he recently attended a birthday party and was told about another council sending cards.

Seaton mayor Councillor Jack Rowland said: "It's a splendid idea," but stressed that the council must be made aware of birthdays to be able to send cards.

Councillor Heather Sanham suggested that local care homes should be contacted about the initiative.

Councillors voted unanimously in support of Councillor Pigott's idea, again stressing that the council must be made aware of 100th birthdays to be able to send cards.

Anyone who has a family member or friend turning 100 is asked to notify the town council office and supply the necessary details.

FORCE fundraiser

THE Axe Valley Friends of FORCE will host a coffee morning on Saturday, October 28th at Colyton Town Hall.

The event will be held from 9.30am to 11.30am and will include a number of stalls offering cakes, home produce and bric-a-brac, plus refreshments and a raffle. Entry is free.

Remembrance Sunday plans for St Gregory's

THE Seaton branch of the the Royal British Legion will lead the Act of Remembrance in St Gregory's churchyard before the morning service on Sunday, November 12th.

Local organisations, public bodies and residents will come together for dignified solemnity and reflection on those who made the ultimate sacrifice.

The names of the fallen will be read, followed by the playing of Last Post and two-minutes' silence at 11am.

The silence will be broken by the Reveille before wreaths are laid at the foot of the war memorial.

At the same time, posies of poppies will be laid by children on the war graves in the churchyard.

The gathered ensemble will then process into St Gregory's Church.

The day before, on Saturday, November 11th, branch members and civic leaders will observe the Act of Remembrance at 11am.

This will take place in Windsor Gardens in front of the Field of Remembrance, created each year to hold personal tributes.

A branch spokesperson said: "Everyone from the community is invited to these few poignant moments of reflection."

Adoption agency chosen as spa's charity of the year

HAWKCHURCH Resort and Spa has chosen Families for Children as its charity of the year.

Events such as the spa's Christmas fair, a static bike ride and profits from some items within their gift shop will go to support the charity.

Hawkchurch Resort and Spa general manager Richard McGrory said: "I have been looking for a children's charity to support as Darwin Escapes [the group the spa is part of] specialises in making families' and children's experiences memorable. Therefore we want to ensure that we can help support Families for Children so that they too can help create wonderful memories that last a lifetime."

Families for Children is a specialist adoption agency.

It currently supports more than 200 families with adoption services.

Bollywood star at Shute Primary School

SHUTE Primary School rocked to the sound of a Bollywood beat when pupils from across the Axe Beacon Federation attended a workshop run by Indian Bollywood singer, Raageshwari Loomba, as part of the Shute Festival of Literature and Landscape.

The music was created specially for the occasion by her father, Trilok Loomba, a well-known Bollywood director and composer.

Former Axe Valley student Jed Holmes of Simply Stage, who did all the sound and lighting for Shute Festival, kindly lent his equipment for the day.

Raageshwari is now based in the UK, having moved here from Mumbai three years ago with her barrister husband, Sudhanshu Swaroop QC, who was also present.

In the 1990s Raageshwari and her father collaborated on a song called Duniya, which stormed the charts in India and remained at number one for some time.

In a break during the workshop, Raageshwari spoke about her life and answered lots of questions from the children.

Samantha Knights, who co-directs Shute Festival with local crime writer Paddy Magrane, said: "We were absolutely thrilled that Raageshwari was able to dance and speak with the children."

"They and their parents had so much fun and we have been overwhelmed by the energy and enthusiasm of everyone who took part."

"It was a privilege for us to host such a wonderful, world-class performer. She charmed everyone."

Activists at 'Stop Brexit' rally

PEOPLE from across Devon joined thousands of others from all over the South West for a Stop Brexit rally in Bristol recently.

Many were not previously involved in politics but were "motivated by a deep unease that Brexit could be a tragic act of national self-harm," joined Devon for Europe, a cross-party campaign group committed to keeping the UK in the EU.

The gathering in Bristol brought together similar organisations from the South West's European Parliament constituency, while parallel rallies were held in the other UK regions.

Speakers at the Bristol rally included members of all major political parties, and highlighted dangers to jobs, the NHS and scientific research, in addition to political isolation and weakness.

Many expressed an overwhelming sadness surrounding the growth in intolerance towards migrants and the loss of a community that had brought peace and cultural richness to Europe.

Julie Girling, one of the South West England and Gibraltar MEPs, summarised the mood and feelings of the rally when she stated that it had become clear that the promises of the Leave campaign in the Referendum could not be met.

Consequently, the mantra that 'the people have spoken' no longer had relevance and needed to be replaced with 'the people want to speak on the deal'.

Chardstock to co-opt new councillor at meeting

CHARDSTOCK Parish Council will try to co-opt a new member to fill the vacancy left following the resignation of then Bernie Steadman last month.

Parish clerk Paul Hayward said: "Following the statutory notice period, no petition for an election was received at East Devon District Council, and Chardstock Parish council will therefore seek to fill the vacancy by co-option at the next meeting on Wednesday November 8th at Chardstock Community Hall.

"Anyone wishing to put themselves forward for co-option as a parish councillor should contact either the clerk or chairman of the council by Tuesday, October 31st."

Details can be found on the parish council website at www.chardstockpc.org.uk

Open day at new Grove development

THE five new homes at the site of the former Grove nightclub in Seaton are ready to be viewed and an open day has been scheduled for next month.

The stylish three bedroom homes at Grove Mews are available to buy and can be viewed at the open day on November 4th from 10am-1pm. Homes are expected to be priced at around £299,950.

There is a reasonable service charge but the homes are freehold. The service charge is to help maintain the upkeep of the now immaculate area surrounding the homes.

The five homes mark the midway point of Phase 2 of the regeneration of the Grove site, with a shop on Fore Street nearly finished and a 60 to 70 cover restaurant also nearing completion.

Phase one saw a gym, offices and several retail units built, which have been hailed as a great success since it opened.

The homes were built as part of a £3million investment by Axminster Tools and Machinery's pension fund and are being sold through Axminster Property Company.

Kelly Apps (Axminster Property Company) and Ian Styles (director of Axminster Tools and Machinery) believe the new houses, retail site, gym and restaurant, have given and will continue to give Seaton a new lease of life.

Mr Styles said: "Seaton is currently in the middle of a large regeneration project, with Seaton Jurassic, the Tramway and now this development."

"These homes are 'London-chic' and are already attracting a lot of interest from passers-by."

Each of the five properties have three bedrooms, with two en-suites and a shared bathroom. The three storey properties' first floor is a large combined kitchen, dining and lounge area, which leads out to a garden area.

■ AN open day at the development is taking place on Saturday, November 4th from 10am-1pm.

Homes are expected to be priced at £299,950.

New names to be added to war memorial

THE names of Job Henry Adams and John Norfolk Bevan will be added to the war memorial in Axminster.

The local branch of the Royal British Legion hopes the names will be in place for Remembrance Sunday on November 12th.

Legion member David Warner explained that a number of names were missing on the war memorial.

Some of them have their names on other war memorials, but Messrs Adams and Bevan did not.

Mr Warner praised David

Knappman of Axminster Heritage for meticulous research.

Job Henry Adams served as a Private in The Devonshire Regiment (9th Battalion) and was killed in action on July 1st 1916 in France, and is buried in the Serre Road cemetery in Beaumont-Hamel, France.

He was born in Axminster in 1875 and his parents were Job Adams (a railway labourer) and Sarah (née Beavis).

The family lived at Widepost Lane and later in Musbury Road.

Job Henry married Mary Elizabeth Batstone of Axminster in Cardiff in 1896.

He worked in Cardiff as a bricklayer before the family moved to north London.

John Norfolk Bevan served as a gunner in The Royal Garrison Artillery (106th Siege Battery) and died on October 4th 1916 in France, being buried in Longuenesse (St Omer) Souvenir Cemetery.

John was born in Axminster in 1897 and his parents were Axminster Workhouse master John Bevan and workhouse matron Ada (née Norfolk).

The family lived in Axminster until at least 1906.

"It won't matter if you're a dancer or not, the afternoon guarantees total fun for everyone attending."

Crowds brave Storm Brian to cheer

■ OTTERY Carnival Royalty in a Peacock Garden

RESIDENTS of Ottery St Mary braved damp conditions to cheer on participants in this year's carnival procession.

The remnants of Storm Brian made the evening wet and windy with many entries pulling out, and some of the larger floats and tableaux from across East Devon also chose the Taunton Carnival over Ottery.

However, the lack of entries and wet weather didn't put too many off as there were still plenty of walking entries, majorettes and Ottery carnival clubs doing the town proud.

As Pulman's View from Honiton & Ottery St Mary went to print, the full results list and figures of how much had been raised had not yet been released.

■ CROCK of Gold's leprechaun entry

■ BUDLEIGH Salterton Carnival Club with 'You Bet'

■ OTTERY ST Mary Venture Scouts Carnival Club designed their float around the Infernal song 'From Paris to Berlin'

■ THE Elven Queen of the North won first prize in the junior walking competition

Young Farmers' support for neonatal units

YARCOMBE and District Young Farmers' Club (YFC) has donated £1,000 to the neonatal unit at the Royal Devon and Exeter Hospital. The club selected the unit as one of their chosen charities for the year because of the specialist support it provides for people from their local community.

They also chose to support the neonatal unit at Musgrove Park Hospital in Taunton and children's charity Over the Wall – raising £3,000 in total for their three charities, to be divided equally between them.

Throughout the last 12 months the group organised a series of charity events to raise funds for the charities, including a disco and a 'Wine and Wisdom' evening in Yarcombe, carol singing, turkey plucking, and Christmas Yule logs and handmade Christmas Cards selling.

In the New Year they continued their campaign with a whist drive, a theatre performance, a foam party and a 22 mile charity bike ride. And to top things off they celebrated Yarcombe and District YFC's 70th anniversary in style with a ball and celebratory lunch in June.

Sarah Broom, Yarcombe and District YFC secretary, said: "Members chose Exeter neonatal unit as one of our chosen charities this year because it is such a worthwhile cause supporting babies and parents in our local area."

"We have had a jam packed year and are over the moon to be able to present you with a cheque for £1,000 which we hope will help the charity a great deal."

Sarah recently visited the neonatal unit in Exeter to hand over their fundraising cheque on behalf of Yarcombe and District YFC to Senior Nurse Sue Prosser.

Sue also gave Sarah a tour of the unit and explained how their generous donation would be used to help benefit babies and their families.

Sue Prosser, Senior Nurse – NNU at the Royal Devon and Exeter Hospital, added: "We'd like to say a big thank you to all the members of Yarcombe and District Young Farmers' Club and to everyone who has supported them this year. Their very kind donation will help us to continue to make improvements to our unit and enable us to provide some extra comforts for families during their stay with us."

Award for gallery's community garden

THELMA Hulbert Gallery's community garden has been recognised twice with a new award and a grant decided by public vote.

The gallery has been 'Highly Commended' in the 2017 Acland Awards, presented by the East Devon AONB partnership.

Chris Woodruff, Partnership Manager of East Devon AONB, said: "Thelma Hulbert Gallery put the community at the centre of their design for their garden regeneration scheme in 2016 to ensure the outside space at the gallery would meet the demands of a diverse range of users."

"A wide range of groups and ages helped and donated time and money to the scheme."

"The result is a garden which has attracted many new visitors and has been the focus for a wide range of activities that raise awareness of wildlife in the newly created habitats for semi-urban wildlife.

"Regular volunteers help to maintain the gardens which now have bird boxes, bug hotels and bird feeders."

"The panel were particularly impressed with the gallery's endeavours to deliver above and beyond their core resources and support local schools' activities."

THG has also received a grant of £1,000 from a public vote in Tesco's Bags of Help scheme.

The grant will be used to create sound sculptures in the garden for visitors to explore with their senses, particularly groups with physical, learning and hidden disabilities.

Artist Michael Fairfax will work with local schools and community groups to create the sculptures.

Bags of Help sees money raised by customers through Tesco's 5p bag charge go directly back into the local community.

Angela Blackwell, THG's Curator, said: "We would like to thank East Devon AONB for this award recognising our community garden and Tesco for their generous grant to continue the garden's development."

"We will continue our thriving programme of workshops in the garden working closely with schools, families and community groups from across East Devon."

Harvest of the sea

The annual Fishermen's Harvest of the Sea service takes place this coming Sunday (October 29th) at the Congregational Church in Beer at 6.30pm.

The service, which has run continuously since 1946, brings together the fishing communities of East Devon and Brixham. It is preceded by community singing at 6pm, and after the service refreshments are served in the Church Hall.

THE UK Coastguard is warning beachgoers to stay safe and not to handle jellyfish and Portuguese man o' war that have washed up on local beaches. East Devon District Council's Street Scene team cleared 300 of the creatures from the beach in Seaton on October 17th UK Coastguard duty controller Aimee Rampton said: "We are aware of these sightings after receiving multiple reports from members of the public.

"Until an accurate identification is made, members of the public are advised to keep away from these jellyfish and report any sighting to their local council.

"The Coastguard has also advised the local councils of these recent sightings.

"Stings from Portuguese man o' war can be very painful and potentially harmful to humans and dogs alike."

Sightings in East Devon should be reported to EDDC on 01395 517528.

Nursery visits St Gregory's Church

ST GREGORY'S Church in Seaton welcomed 20 children plus teachers from Pink Hippo Nursery School.

Sharon Bruce of the church said: "They came to see the church and bring their harvest gifts for Seaton Foodbank.

"Many of them didn't think they had been in a church before, so we showed them the font where the babies are baptised and then they sat in the pews and looked at the pretty coloured windows.

"They also sat in the choir stalls and sang to us.

"After another little walk round they took it in turns to put their gifts into the shopping trolley ready for us to take to the foodbank in the afternoon.

"They were all very good and we hope they will visit us again, perhaps nearer to Christmas."

Recently, the church has also held a coffee morning in aid of Macmillan (which raised £145.76) and a supper and organ recital by internationally-known organist Trevor Bolshaw.

Ms Bruce said: "All are welcome to come along to our activities and events as we share our parish church and centre with the community."

Ottery crowns its first king and queen of the mountain

THE organisers of the first King and Queen of the Mountain and Go-Ride event in Ottery recently are celebrating the great success of the events.

The time trial event, where competitors race up Chine-way Hill, attracted a total of 85 cyclists not only from local clubs but from clubs across the country including Berkshire, Surrey and the West Midlands.

In the afternoon, children – along with their parents – attended the Go-Ride event at the Land of Canaan and had the opportunity of experiencing their first competitive time trial and win a medal sponsored by Rotary Club of Otter Valley.

There was plenty for them to keep them busy: The Balloon Man, Ledley The Friendly Dinosaurs, and other fun and games.

The older group of children had a go at something new and never seen in Ottery before, a demonstration by Exeter Aces Cycle Speedway and the opportunity for those from six to 60 to try their first cycle speed ride.

More medals and more certificates were handed out to those taking part.

HSBC UK Go-Ride is British Cycling's development programme for young people.

The programme provides a fun and safe way to introduce young riders to the world of cycle sport and provides a platform to improve bike handling skills.

Organiser Cllr Josefina Gori said: "A big thank you to all the organisations and individuals involved in the working group, especially 1st Chard Wheelers who provided all the technical support for the Time Trial. They deserve the credit."

"My dream is to have an OSM junior and juvenile cycling team that can carry the flag of our town high above in competitions around Britain and abroad."

Coffee morning raises nearly £900

A COFFEE morning in aid of Macmillan proved very popular in Hawkchurch.

People descended on the village hall on September 29th, and organiser Maggie Stead said: "I am very happy to report that we have realised £886 for Macmillan and that sum will be doubled by Utility Warehouse (which is Macmillan's charity partner), which is amazing. My thanks to all who helped by giving raffle prizes and making donations and coming on the day to support me."

■ NATIONAL TRUST | AXE VALLEY CENTRE: Members of the Axe Valley Centre of the National Trust were given a talk on October 11th by Paula Clark, a member of their staff, on the Restoration of Castle Drogo.

This was a very interesting talk not only about Julius Drewe, who commissioned the castle, but also the architect Edwin Lutyens who designed it.

The problems started even at the planning stage with Drewe making unsuitable alterations to Lutyens' design.

The main issue throughout has been the location of the castle, high on Dartmoor, where wind speeds have been recorded of 107 mph with horizontal driving rain causing the castle to leak through its roof, windows and walls.

The project is now nearing completion, some 700 windows having been replaced and another 200 to go with another year's work.

The building is still open at the moment with hard hat tours of the work on the roof. The Axe Valley Centre have given small grants to projects in the Lutyens' garden including the latest towards new gates.

Our next fundraiser is the autumn fair at Colyford Memorial Hall on October 28th at 10.30 am. It is from these events we are able to make grants to our local National Trust properties, such as Shute Barton.

INSPIRING WOMEN

■ COLYTON: President Shelagh Derwent welcomed members and our speaker, Jane Dickson. A birthday card was given to a member and then the speaker was introduced.

Jane Dickson is well known in Colyton as the editor of 'The Coly Times'. Jane has spoken to us on previous occasions but this time it was to tell 'The Other Story'.

This was about the influence music had had on her from an early age and eventually leading her to the world of folk music and performances in this country, Europe and Asia.

Jane had also been involved in drama, in particular helping to develop enthusiasm and talents in young people. It had been a long journey, with many facets, eventually leading her 'All the way to the Coly Times'. Jane was thanked by Shelagh Derwent.

Everyone then enjoyed a Harvest Tea which had been provided by members.

Business was dealt with including arrangements for the carol concert in Exeter and reports on the DFWI Autumn Showcase and the Spring Group Meeting at Seaton.

Members were given dates for their diaries: CWICS on Tuesday, October 24th; Book Club on Wednesday, October 25th; Beer Quiz on November 23rd at Dolphin Hotel; and the Spring Group Meeting in Beer on April 18th 2018.

Members were reminded that there is no meeting in November as we are celebrating our 90th birthday on November 24th.

The December meeting will be used to create a Christmas decoration so members are asked to bring: pins, needles, cotton and Christmas material if available.

Elizabeth Cochrane read out an email received from Colyton WI in New Zealand.

Competitions: Flower of Month: 1st, Penny Cogan; 2nd, Brenda Clark; 3rd, Jean Underdown. Harvest Flower Arrangement: Joint 1st, Jean Underdown and Brenda Clark.

Shelagh Derwent closed the meeting and thanked everyone for coming. The December Meeting is on Tuesday, December 19th in St John's Hall, Colyton at 2.15 pm. Visitors welcome.

■ SEATON: The Autumn Group Meeting was hosted by Seaton WI in the large hall at Seaton Methodist Church on Wednesday, October 11th.

President Margaret Nicholas welcomed guests from Beer, Colyford, Colyton and Musbury & Whitford Institutes.

After singing 'Jerusalem' accompanied on the piano by Mary Fone, minutes were read and general business matters discussed.

Group Secretary Jan Probert said in her report that the individual WIs in the group were thriving and enjoying events both within their institutes and their local communities.

A fascinating talk by travel writer Hilary Bradt had a hushed audience intently following her intrepid forays into what were formerly remote parts of the world.

A sumptuous tea of delicious cakes was enjoyed by all and although not recommended as a prelude to Yoga in a Chair, did not deter us from trying the exercises and benefiting from Yvonne Waite's expertise.

Votes of thanks were given to both speakers on behalf of the Group. The next group meeting will be hosted by Beer WI on April 18th 2018.

■ COLYFORD: At their October meeting members were treated to a thoughtful and very amusing talk by vet Malcolm Welshman.

Malcolm grew up in Africa and explained how his interest in – and love of – animals started there, making him determined to become a vet.

Ladies heard about cheeky African grey parrots, his stories demonstrating their intelligence as well as their mimicry.

On a larger scale, a sick, drowsy, white rhino at London Zoo is one thing but administering the last doses of a course of antibiotics becomes more challenging as this hefty mammal starts to perk up again!

Over tea ladies chose their meal for lunch the following week and had the final opportunity to buy tickets for the Autumn Group Meeting in Seaton. Names were also taken for tickets for the Carol Service in December.

During the business meeting members were given a provisional date for a coffee morning in November. Thanks were also expressed to all those who had helped with the stall at Colyford Goose Fayre at the end of September.

At the next meeting, on November 1st, the talk is entitled 'My Seaton'. For more information contact Elizabeth Harding on 01297 624250.

Axe Valley students call for more group work in survey

STUDENTS at Axe Valley Academy have completed a teaching and learning project, calling for more group work.

The project included a practical survey in personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) lessons, which asked students to rank ways that help them learn.

Students also took part in a book scrutiny and assessed learning environments before analysing the results.

Teachers were impressed with the presentation, which they said was both professional and thought-provoking.

An academy spokesperson said: "Group work was a clear leader in the activity of choice from students. "They realised that they can't do group work all lesson, every lesson and therefore requested teachers to provide more short, one to two-minute opportunities to discuss ideas before starting a task."

It was also found that the most effective displays were those that show students what can be achieved, as good examples helped them understand what they can aim for.

Headteacher Steve Green enthused: "I'm really excited to be involving students in this way."

"It is important that their views regarding teaching and learning form part of our planning to continue to improve our provision for young people."

Year 10 student Louise

Tyne said: "We did a huge amount of work for this project."

"We wanted to do it because we value our education and we want to help find ways to improve as there are always things you can do to improve."

PSHE and Citizenship coordinator Rachel Chainey said: "This is the first time students at Axe Valley have been involved in a project like this and they are already planning follow-up work for later this year."

"All the staff were so impressed at the commitment demonstrated by the Student Voice team to this project."

"Their findings were well presented and their conclusions were positive and insightful."

New church organ dedicated at St Mary's

ORGANIST Richard Godfrey and soloist Elizabeth Denham gave their time freely for a concert aptly called 'The Celebration of a New Organ' at St Mary's RC Church in Axminster on October 13th.

Before the concert commenced, a plaque – fixed to the new organ in memory of the late Father Michael – was dedicated by the present priest, Father Anthony Cockram.

The concert followed with an excellent and varied selection of music and song, both religious and light popular, which included pieces by Handel, Bach and Mendelssohn among others and songs by Burgon, A Sullivan, Rutter, and Flanders & Swann.

The audience was treated to a feast of excellent music and song, each to a very high standard.

It is hoped that the evening's concert will be the first of many, providing an opportunity for organists, professional and novice, to enjoy.

HAVE YOU GOT ROOM FOR A LUCKY BLACK CAT?

BLACK cats across the years have been considered both unlucky and lucky. It is true that on average a black cat in a rescue centre takes longer to re-home than any other colour so this Halloween we are encouraging potential adopters to consider re-homing one of our wonderful black (or black and white) cats.

We are not claiming that our lucky cats will help you win the lottery but by adopting one of these lovely animals we can guarantee that they will win your heart!

HELLO!
OUR NAMES ARE MONTY AND MURPHY!

Monty & Murphy are a lovely pair of cats who are looking for a home together as they are brothers and are very close to one another, they are quite timid when they first meet you but once they get to know you they do enjoy being made a fuss of. They are not used to children and are weary of dogs, but they have lived with other cats before. They are used to living in the countryside so would love to be given the opportunity to continue exploring the great outdoors, so a home away from busy roads is essential.

Hiya!
MY NAME IS BUSTER!

Buster is a really lovely cat who can be a little worried at times but he is really sweet and affectionate once he gets to know you and is settled in his new home. He has previously lived with young children as well as other cats and dogs. He is litter trained and not destructive in the home.

HEY! MY NAME IS EDDIE

Eddie is looking for a very special home with someone who can give him a second chance in life as he has a heart condition which requires monitoring rather than medication. Due to this, he is looking for a quiet home where the humans are adults only, and he is their only pet so he can get the care and the attention he needs. Ferne Animal Sanctuary staff will provide his special human with as much information and support that they may need throughout his life. They know it is a big ask to give him a home, but please consider him if you can!

Hi! MY NAME IS JASON

Jason is a very sweet very playful kitten who would love to find a home where his new owners are around most of the day to give him plenty of fuss and attention, and he still need four feeds a day. He would like to live where there is another young cat in the home and he is happy to live with children of 8yrs and over, he is litter trained but this may need reinforcing in the home.

HELLO! MY NAME IS FIFI

Fifi is looking for a quiet home as she has had a couple of seizures in the past when she became very stressed, she is quite a nervous but very gentle cat who is looking for a second chance in life! She has lived with other cats, dogs and children aged 12 years and above. She enjoys being outside and would love somewhere she can bask in the sun! She is litter trained and not destructive in the home.

Hi THERE! OUR NAMES ARE SOX AND MITTENS!

Sox & Mittens are really sweet cats who are looking for a rural home together as they are brothers and do love one another. They can be a little timid at first but do adore human attention once they learn to trust you. They are quite unsettled at the moment and bewildered at their unfamiliar surroundings, but are starting to show how affectionate they can be. They have previously lived with children of 6 years of age, but are not sure about other cats or dogs

HELLO! MY NAME IS LOGAN

Logan (we know he's not mainly black but has been at Ferne Animal Sanctuary for over 6 months now and we are desperate to find him a new home) is a really sweet cat who just loves people to the point where he follows them around like a dog! He loves a fuss, but is also happy to go outside and be independent for a while. He would like a home in the countryside without children or other pets, and would be happiest where his owner is home a fair bit as he likes lots of human attention! He is a real character and would make a wonderful companion if given the chance, he is litter trained and not destructive in the home.

HEY! OUR NAMES ARE COSMO AND FLUFFY!

Cosmo & Fluffy are really sweet cats who are looking for a home together as they are mother and daughter. They really love cuddling up to each other and although can be a little timid, they adore human attention once they learn to trust you. They are quite unsettled at the moment, but are starting to show how affectionate & playful they can be. They have previously lived with children of all ages, other cats and dogs.

HiYA! OUR NAMES ARE LIBBY AND LOTTIE!

Libby & Lottie have not had the best start in life and as you can see, due to an infection that was left untreated by her previous owner, Libby is now blind in one eye but that does not stop her from running around and playing happily like any other kitten! They are very sweet sociable kittens who are looking for a home together where they will get the love and attention they have not had in the past. They would need someone who is around most of the day for their extra feeds and socialisation. They would be fine living with children aged 3 years and over and would be happy living with other cats and dogs. They are litter trained but this may need reinforcing in the home.

An old soldier from the West Country threw his medals at the Houses of Parliament yesterday in a protest against what he calls "a travesty of justice". Letter was an insult to baby boomers

■ WELL, what an insulting letter to Pulman's View (October 3rd) about baby boomers and the 17 million intelligent people (not all baby boomers) voting to leave the corrupt EU by your correspondent Comrade Richard David.

Obviously Comrade David is a disciple of Messrs Marxists Corbyn and McDonald and what a disaster that would be if they got into power!

We baby boomers are old enough to know that every Labour government since WWII has nearly bankrupted the country and the Conservatives have had to come back in to rescue the country!

If you want a classic example of how a Marxist government ruins a country then look at Venezuela, a once prosperous country rich in natural resources now corrupt and bankrupt. Do we want to risk that?

With his Marxist ideals and hate of the capitalist wealth producing system, perhaps Comrade David would prefer to join the other millions of brainwashed residents of North Korea.

He would certainly feel at home but would not enjoy the luxury of free speech. This mass adulation of the Labour Messiah will end and the intelligent baby boomers and other citizens will continue to make this country great.

I can never understand why anyone would vote Labour, perhaps someone can convince me otherwise but I doubt it!

STUART WALLIS (Baby Boomer and proud of it, Barnards Farm, Beer)

■ THE letter from Richard David (October 3rd) is sad and requires a balanced response.

We moved to Seaton in 2013 and find the people here some of the most friendly we have known. We have enjoyed making friends with many of them. This has been a busy year for tourism in Seaton, but remember it is the "older" residents (like us) who keep the local economy going out of season, whatever their political persuasion.

We never used the Grove nightclub (which had a bad reputation anyway), but suggest the gymnasium which replaced it is a much healthier option for people of all ages, and there are a growing number of new businesses being developed by enthusiastic young folk in the town.

We can all support their efforts all year round.

Seaton may not be perfect, but it is certainly not the unwelcoming and bigoted town depicted in Richard David's cynical letter.

KEN & JUTTA GORE,
Seaton

We need investment in public services

■ AT THE recent meeting at EDDC to discuss censuring Paul Diviani, a heart-rending speech was delivered by a previously lifelong Conservative voter.

He could not support his party's action against local hospitals, and he felt other political parties had major failings – so casting him into the wilderness of the disenfranchised.

He appealed to the councillors to vote with principle and so restore his faith. Alas for disappointment; no such restorative action took place.

However, all is not lost. Having cast off the Tory blinkers he is now in a position truly to understand that a nation's economy differs from that of a corner shop in Grantham – an insight beyond Margaret Thatcher – and comprehend the sense and power of the economic policy of the Labour Party.

The Guardian recently printed a letter from Professor Richard Murphy outlining this policy with more authority, but I suspect even lapsed Tories did not see it.

The main issue is money supply – where is the magic money tree to pay for Labour's spending plans.

The short answer is not that it grows in the Cayman Islands, but in Threadneedle Street.

If you own a bank, and we do, you print what you need and circulate it where it will do the most good – into public services to create employment and expand prosperity, eventually collecting it back as tax.

This is not a dream. Following the 2008 recession the Bank of England created £439 billion out of nowhere and passed it to the banking system to lend out.

Called quantitative easing, the idea was to start new businesses and expand employment – but this did not happen.

Instead, it went into buying property, so inflating prices beyond rational affordability.

That's what the free market does: maximise return at minimum risk.

How much better to set up a people's development bank to direct investment into our crippled public services and benefit the many, not the few.

Nobel prize winning economists think it is feasible – what about the voters of Seaton.

JAMES SEMPLE,
Beer Road, Seaton

Hospital beds: will Devon's Tories make a stand?

■ UNFORTUNATELY Devon's Conservatives appear determined to prove Paul Arnott and Cathy Gardner (October 10th) right in their argument that the Tories have sabotaged the campaign to save Seaton's and Honiton's hospital beds.

I proposed a motion at Devon County Council on October 5th to ask the Health Scrutiny Committee to look again at issues like the sudden switch of beds from Seaton to Sidmouth, which had not been properly scrutinised.

I also asked the council to write directly to the Secretary of State for Health to express its dissatisfaction with NEW Devon Clinical Commissioning Group's decisions and the way they made them.

Forty Conservatives ganged up to vote down both proposals; only one, Ian Hall of Axminster, voted for my proposal along with 15 Independent, Liberal Democrat, Labour and Green members.

Devon's Tories seem determined to be seen hand in glove with the Government and the CCG as they cut back the county's NHS and sacrifice hospitals which local communities worked so hard to build.

Since they haven't drawn the line over beds, where will the Conservatives draw the line?

We are waiting to hear whether the RD&E, who run Seaton, Axminster and Honiton hospitals, will agree to bring in more out-patient services to keep all of them as thriving health hubs.

If they don't, and the CCG call in NHS Property Services – who have already valued the hospitals – will the local Conservatives finally take a stand?

I will readily work with them if they do, but after the experience of the last year, I'm not holding my breath.

MARTIN SHAW,
Independent East Devon Alliance County Councillor for Seaton & Colyton

■ IN DEFENCE of all the 'faceless people' ('Support for open top bus, Letters, September 19th), my garden on Sidmouth road was permeated with toxic fumes every time an open top bus passed by.

I have sat in a car behind the very same bus several times with fumes pouring in.

Lyme Regis has turned into a circus town: you will not see many locals there; we go to Seaton.

Tesco killed Seaton! The double deckers that travel on Sidmouth road (with two passengers) is no problem.

So it all comes down to the FUMES. Try standing behind an open top bus for three minutes or 30 minutes in a car.

THIS year's carnival is set to be another stunning event, welcoming entries from around Devon and Somerset. Many of the clubs have been working all year round to get their floats and walking entries ready for the carnival season which started at the beginning of September. This year we are the last carnival before the end of the East Devon Circuit season so everyone will be out to make the last one the best one. The procession will be lead out by the Kelly Leigh Dance Troupe from Chard from about 7.15pm and will be doing displays along the route to entertain the crowd while waiting for the main procession.

CARNIVAL Secretary, Karen Wilson, said "We must thank the sponsors of this year's carnival, without whom, the carnival would not happen. Their support is so important to us and is greatly appreciated. The committee is also extremely thankful to Tesco who awarded us £2000 from their Bags of Help scheme. This money is being put towards the running costs of the carnival which increase every year. Lastly, we want to urge people to come out and support the carnival by putting whatever change they have in the collecting buckets and floats. Any profit made from the collection goes to local good causes".

Lyme's musical remembrance

THIS year's Armistice Day will be marked at Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis by a big band Remembrance concert on the evening of Saturday, November 11th.

Swing Unlimited Big Band bring war-time classics by Glen Miller, Count Basie and Duke Ellington back to life in "We'll Meet Again", a one-off concert, with songs by Ella Fitzgerald, Frank Sinatra and of course, Vera Lynn.

Swing Unlimited is one of the most versatile and entertaining swing bands in the south of England. Based in Bournemouth, this 17 piece band say they'll play anything "as long as it swings".

Although Remembrance Day now commemorates casualties from all wars, it was during the Second World War that music – and especially American big band music – helped boost morale, providing a distinctive musical soundtrack to the 1940s. And there's no better place to mark this than in Marine Theatre which was used as an American forces canteen in the build up to D-Day.

The evening is hosted by Jazz Jurassica at Marine Theatre and will use music, images and words to re-create the war-time era including a Last Post and a minute's silence.

Julie Shepard of Jazz Jurassica said: "In addition to the Royal British Legion events in the town, we want this to be a musical celebration of Remembrance for the whole community. This will be a fun, uplifting evening – and a good way to pay our respects to those we'll be remembering over the weekend".

"We'll Meet Again" takes place on Saturday, November 11th at 8pm at the Marine Theatre, Church Street, Lyme Regis. Tickets: £18/£16 (concessions) from Box Office: 01297 441238 or www.marinetheatre.com.

Sunjay's return

FOLK singer-songwriter Sunjay, a former finalist in the BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards (2012), returns to Chaffcombe for a special show at the village hall, by request.

Sunjay is a talented singer and guitarist, fusing elements of blues, rock and folk into his sound.

Sunjay plays at Chaffcombe Village Hall on Saturday, November 4th at 7.30pm. Tickets are £8.50, including refreshments. To book call 01460 65909 or 64553.

This historic map covers the landscape of the Colyton and Shute area, west of Axminster.

Legacy to Landscape is funded by the Heritage Lottery Fund with support from the East Devon AONB Partnership, Colyton Parish History Society, Devon Wildlife Trust, Botanists and farmers Marian Reed and Phil Wilson, and the Axe Vale and District Conservation Society.

Come together today for a better tomorrow

FREE SOUL is a group of likeminded individuals united by their passion to encourage the community to pull together for a brighter future.

With the local area currently exceeding in housing development, there are plenty of community issues taking a back seat. With this in mind, the group has been inspired to help the Tom Chubb Fund with vital fundraising required to build and maintain a quality concrete skate park in Axminster.

People travel all over the UK and beyond to locate their perfect skate park and so why not support this very project which currently sits right on our doorstep, needing your help!

How are they going to do it?

What better way than to plan festivals for all ages - the perfect way to chill out, come together, enjoy the party and most importantly raise funds for a worthy cause.

The 'Free Soul Octoberfest' is just that; good for the soul! Set in the centre of Axminster, for all ages, with music, madness from 12pm to 12am with plenty to keep you entertained. From stalls and wacky activities, a fun fair, to some of the best music the local area has to offer, the whole family is covered.

Music enthusiasts, happy hippies, family fundraisers, festival folk, community lovers and local people join together - the Octoberfest is one not to be missed!

About the Tom Chubb Fund

On October 30th, 2012, the Axminster community was shaken by the sudden and tragic death of 18 year old Tom Chubb in a car accident.

Following the tragic news, Axminster's skate park has become a hub for those affected, with fundraising becoming an essential tool to use in order to turn the sadness and loss of Tom into something positive for the future.

The fundraising began when donations were made to the skate park during Tom's funeral. From then on, friends and relatives of Tom began a new journey, campaigning for better skate facilities for BMX and skateboard riders (something Tom loved) and... a dedicated team of fundraisers were born.

The skate park site has been donated by Cloakham Lawns, and is not owned by the local council, so it is up to fundraisers, the steering group and those who skate there to ensure the park is maintained and looked after.

Insurance, small rent to Cloakham and the building of the skate park all comes from fundraising and so there is a constant need for money to be raised at every opportunity to keep this hub alive.

Well-known skate park design and build company Maverick Industries will be heading up the latest design and contracting of the new park which organisers are sure will drive all ages and abilities from across East Devon to enjoy.

Now officially granted charity status, the next step is to put in for planning for a bigger and better park. Supported by local councillors and the community, the group hope the next stage in the project will be well supported and achievable!

Funfair, Bouncy Castle, Pumpkin Competition, Halloween Fancy Dress Competition, Apple Bobbing, Raffle, Gin and Prosecco Bar, Otter Beer, Larger and Cider Bar, check out www.freesoulfestivals.com for our full set list for the day, various stalls, hot food and donuts on offer!

All the money made goes to Axminster Skate Park.

Kerri Watt brings Old School Love to Exeter

BBC RADIO 2 A-listed singer songwriter Kerri Watt has announced her first ever headline tour, with 14-dates across the UK this November.

Kicking off on November 2nd in Derby, Kerri will be playing in some of the UK's biggest towns, including shows in Liverpool, Leeds, Birmingham, London, Manchester, Exeter, and her home town - Glasgow.

This news comes off the back of Kerri's recent single, 'Old School Love', her first for her new label East West Records (Warners). Whilst continuing to showcase her knack for writing a great hook, 'Old School Love', marked a slight change from her previous two singles, the BBC Radio 2 play listed 'Long Way Home' and 'The Wild'. With a more simple production and mellow instrumentation, it's a love song that as its title suggests, plays homage to an old school sound. The melody let's Kerri's vocal shine, laying bare the honest accessible song writing that has already won her an army of loyal fans.

Over the past year, Kerri has been travelling across the world, performing and writing new material. This includes a track written and recorded with Embrace which she recently performed with them at their two night opening slot for Coldplay at Cardiff's Principality Stadium - in front of 74,000 - her biggest audience yet.

Kerri's previous success includes the aforementioned

BBC Radio 2 A-list for her single 'Long Way Home' and a Radio 2 B-List for 'The Wild'. She's performed on ITV's Weekend Show and STV's Live At Five, plus had critical acclaim everywhere from the Daily Telegraph, The Independent, The Sun, Metro, Daily Star, Notion, Glamour Magazine, to Attitude Magazine, Music Week and Record of the Day amongst many others. She also hit Number 1 on Hype Machine with the remix of her single 'You' and has performed at festivals including Isle of Wight, The Great Escape, Secret Garden Party and Glastonbury. She's also supported Nina Nesbitt, Ward Thomas, Starsailor, Mike & The Mechanics and The Overtones.

Kerri Watt plays live in the Voodoo Lounge at The Phoenix, Exeter on Saturday, November 18th. Tickets are £8 (£6 concs) available from www.exeterphoenix.org.uk or by calling 01392 667080.

■ The Gravity Drive

The Gravity Drive live

THE Gravity Drive, a local harmony driven alt-pop band fronted by husband and wife Ava and Elijah Wolf, will perform at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis on Thursday, November 2nd, in support of their new single, Shooting Star, mixed by Chris Potter (The Verve - Urban Hymns).

Mesmeric and mellow with Elijah singing lead vocal, Shooting Star is a song about devotion written by Elijah for his wife Ava. Ava's hypnotic harmonies weave a childlike wonder throughout the track creating a perfect 'play it again' vintage yet of the moment sound.

The Gravity Drive have featured on - and been championed by - Radio 2 and BBC 6Music, with Dermot O'Leary describing the band's work as 'Lovely stuff', and Chris Hawkins of 6Music exclaiming the band are 'inspired and inspiring'.

The concert on Thursday, November 2nd will feature support from Grace Gillan and Jake Miller.

'The heroes British rock need' head to Exeter

HAILED as the "heroes British rock needs right now" and lauded by everyone from Alt Press and Upset to Rhythm and Total Guitar, Hunter & The Bear are busy making raw, melodic and downright thunderous rock cut straight from the heart.

From securing support slots with Eric Clapton, Simple Minds and Van Morrison, to selling-out previous headline tours, here is a quartet that grew up on a heavy diet of rock royalty - Biffy Clyro, Foo Fighters and more recently Royal Blood - who make music that is melancholy, expansive and uplifting all at the same time, their powerhouse riffs more than enough to keep rock purists and casual listeners alike satisfied.

Live, this is a band where each song performed threatens to topple over with lightning-charged intensity and in May they released their debut album, 'Paper Heart' - ten memorable offerings that have already earned them a legion of dedicated fans.

With all songs written and performed by this group of close friends exclusively, Hunter & the Bear are a real, organic project - one that's built on pure passion, drive and belief in each other as musicians. Catch them on tour this November, they'll obliterate everything you thought a band should be.

Hunter & The Bear play live at The Phoenix, Exeter on Thursday, November 16th at 8pm. Tickets are £9, available from www.exeterphoenix.org.uk or by calling 01392 667080.

Celebrating Nick Drake

Two shows at the Marine Theatre look at the life of the hugely influential folk enigma

NICK DRAKE may have only recorded 31 songs during his short life but - following his suicide at the age of 26 - his reknown as one of the most cherished folk singers of the early seventies has become firmly cemented in the minds of subsequent generations.

At the Marine Theatre in November, there are two special events that mark the musician's short life; together they tell the tale of a musician's journey from cult figure to folk idol. A former BBC soundman at the legendary Maida Vale studios, Keith James has played over 2000 shows dedicated to the music of Nick Drake. Over 15 years Keith has become an ambassador for Drake's music and is known as the country's best interpreter, securing him performances at almost every acoustic music festival. There's even been a Glastonbury performance. Keith performs this special show at the Marine on Friday, November 17th.

The second event is Strange Face. It's a one-man spoken-word show by Michael Burdett.

After finding a lost Nick Drake recording in a skip, he armed himself with the music, a camera and a pair of headphones, and travelled the length and breadth of the country. He found 200 people prepared to stop, listen and talk including Billy Bragg, Martin Freeman and Noel Fielding. In this event Michael tells a fascinating story of the people he photographed and their stories, which The Times called "a gorgeous one-man show" as their pick of Edinburgh Festival.

Tickets are £14 and £12 concession for each of the shows. For more details and to book tickets visit www.marinetheatre.com or call the box office on 01297 442138.

A Really Classical concert

ANYONE who enjoyed Bristol's acclaimed Really Classical Relay - a wonderful weekend of classical music played on historical instruments, which took place earlier this year - will be delighted to learn that Concerts in the West is offering music lovers a chance to hear some of the festival's highlights again at the final performances of CitW's 2017 season.

Four brilliant young chamber musicians who played at Really Classical Relay - Jonathan Rees, John Crockett, Guy Button and James Toll - will be bringing to life three superb works, including JS Bach's Preludes and Fugues, K404a (arr. Mozart), Haydn String Quartet Op. 20 No 2 in C major and Beethoven's luminous and transcendent late quartet Op.132 in A minor. For added authenticity, all the pieces will be played on historical instruments, so expect gut strings and unusually shaped bows. For added authenticity, the musicians play from early editions and manuscripts.

Jonathan Rees plays cello and viol with a number of different groups and has been a guest principal and viol soloist with the Academy of Ancient Music and Orchestra of the Age of Enlightenment, continuo gambist /bass violinist with ENO in Indian Queen, and has performed with the viol consort Fretwork and Phantasm. Most notably, he performed Stockhausen's Mittwoch Aus Licht on a swinging perspex platform in a Birmingham Chemical Factory attended by two camels.

Jonathan is principal cellist of La Nuova Musica, is a founder member of the new viol consort Newe Vialles and is also principal cellist of the Faust Chamber Orchestra. He plays with fellow cellist Vladimir Waltham in prize-winning Duo Domenico, which has played in the London Baroque Festival, York International Early Music Festival and many venues across Europe.

John Crockett is a professional violinist and violist, specialising in music from the baroque and classical eras. He has performed as principal viola with the Amsterdam Baroque Orchestra and the Orchestra of the Age of Enlightenment, as principal violin with Solomon's Knot and has played and recorded with groups including the English Baroque Soloists, the Gabrieli Players and the Early Opera Company. In 2015 he performed as principal violinist in the Globe Theatre's play Farinelli and the King, starring Mark Rylance and Iestyn Davies. Projects in 2016 included concerts and recordings with Arcangelo, performances in China with the Amsterdam Baroque Orchestra as well as recitals with harpsichordist Tom Foster in the UK and Spain.

Guy Button violin and viola. Following studies at the Guildhall School of Music and Drama and Robinson College, Cambridge, Guy has appeared as chamber musician and soloist at the Wigmore Hall, St. Johns' Smith Square and many other high profile venues internationally. As well as performing in the Ruisi Quartet, Guy appears regularly with the London Chamber Orchestra, English Chamber Orchestra, European Union Chamber Orchestra, The 12 ensemble and the London Contemporary Orchestra.

James Toll began playing the violin at the age of six and studied at the Purcell School. He has played chamber music at the Wigmore Hall, Cadogan Hall, St John's and The Queen Elizabeth Hall, and once conducted a workshop for two hundred teenagers from South London, which he very much enjoyed. James has a Bachelor's degree from the Royal Northern College of Music and plays with some of the top ensembles in the UK. He is currently trialling as co-principal second violin with the Scottish Ensemble.

Catherine Maddocks, the founder and director of Concerts in the West, said: "We are delighted to welcome back Jonathan Rees who played so beautifully for us with Reveries Musicales in 2012. Jonathan is also the founder and artistic director of Really Classical Relay, which is a terrific classical music micro festival in Bristol, featuring early music written between 1750 and 1830. The performances they are giving for Concerts in the West will give a flavour of the Relay's wonderful programme, which the musicians play on historical instruments with both skill and tremendous enthusiasm. I cannot think of a better or more joyous way to end our 2017 series than with these remarkable musicians."

Evening recital programme: JS Bach Preludes and Fugues, K404a (arr. Mozart), Haydn String Quartet Op. 20 No 2 in C major; Beethoven String Quartet Op.132 in A minor.

The 'Really Classical' concert takes place at Ilminster Arts Centre at the Meeting House on Friday, December 1st at 8pm. Box Office: 01460 55783 9.30am-4.30pm Monday to Friday (Pre-concert supper at 7pm - advanced booking required £14) www.themeetinghouse.org.uk Tickets: £15. Bar and café, IAC and town parking, plus car parks, disabled access.

Hark! It's Steeley Span

STEELEYE SPAN are fast approaching their 50th anniversary, with a work rate to put many younger artists to shame. The bands' eighth album in twelve years - 2016's 'Dodgy Bastards' - saw them return to the folk tales and characters that have always been at the heart of the Steeley sound. Dodgy Bastards saw the folk-rock pioneers continue drawing stories of murder, religion, incest, skulls, honour killings and tormented spirit. They once more create an inspired and dark take on the music of the British Isles.

Steeleye follow Dodgy Bastards up with a UK tour which sees them introduce a new seven-piece line up. Roger Carey joining on bass and Benji Kirkpatrick adding bouzouki, acoustic guitar and vocals. The band revisit the record that began their career. Released in 1970, 'Hark! The Village Wait' not only introduced the band to the world but also played a vital part in the history of folk rock, helping kick-start a sound that would come to define British traditional music over the following years.

Featuring a number of songs that have become part of the Steeley legend, the group have revisited moments on stage and in the studio before, but on these dates, they will play "Hark!" in its entirety for the first time - bringing together the past, present and future of this famous band.

Steeleye Span play live at the Corn Exchange, Exeter on Wednesday, November 22nd (for more details call 01392 665938), they then play at the Octagon Theatre, Yeovil on Saturday, November 25th (01935 422884); and the group also play at Taunton's Brewery Theatre, Taunton on Monday, November 27th (01823 283244).

Those Were The Days

LOVERS of local history are in for a treat next month when a unique event comes to Lyme Regis's Marine Theatre.

The show, entitled 'Those Were The Days', is a fascinating combination of archive film footage set to live music, with traditional songs and tunes from the West Dorset area.

It is the result of a collaboration between the organisers of Lyme Folk Weekend, West Country folk singer Amanda Boyd and the Windrose Rural Media Trust, who hold an amazing archive of local films featuring footage from Lyme Regis, West Bay, Bridport and the surrounding area.

The films provide a wonderful glimpse into the past, and include interviews and clips of local trades, farming practices and some of the fascinating and engaging local characters from yesteryear.

And, as Amanda explains, the West Dorset folk music, sung and played by local musicians, provide the perfect accompaniment.

'We are thrilled to let people see these amazing films,' said Amanda. 'And I was in Lyme Regis one evening when I chanced upon a group of local singers in the Pilot Boat Inn, and thought they would provide the perfect soundtrack, as many of the films are silent.'

Organiser of Lyme Folk Weekend, Jeremy Hayes, added: 'Since meeting Amanda at the Pilot Boat we have added a few more musicians and singers, and worked together on devising a programme of tunes and songs, which go perfectly with the films.'

Tickets for the 'Those Were The Days' on Thursday, November 16, are on sale from the Marine Theatre box office on 01297 442138.

Have an enchanted evening!

AXMINSTER Musical Theatre's next treat for theatre goers after their great success with The Full Monty last November is South Pacific! Rodgers and Hammerstein's classic musical is being staged at Axminster Guildhall from November 15th to 18th at 7.30pm with a matinee on Saturday 18th at 2.30pm.

Set in an island paradise during World War II, two parallel love stories are threatened by the dangers of prejudice and war. Nellie, a spunky nurse from Arkansas, falls in love with a mature French planter, Emile, and thus begins their whirlwind romance. Meanwhile, the strapping Lieutenant, Joe Cable visits the island of Bali Hai and is introduced to Bloody Mary's beautiful daughter, Liat, and soon falls in love with her.

Featuring some of Rodgers and Hammerstein's most famous tunes including I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Outta My Hair, There is Nothing Like a Dame, Bali Hai, Cock Eyed Optimist and Some Enchanted Evening and many more, this classic musical is not one to be missed. Tickets are now on sale from The Archway Bookshop 01297 33595 or on line from seaty.co.uk/southpacific

Winter is coming - be prepared with a winter check from Vauxhall

VAUXHALL is helping its customers beat the winter blues when they book in their vehicle for a comprehensive 25-point health check. The seasonal Check and Treat programme looks after vehicle and driver alike, with customers able to choose between coffee and cake, cinema tickets or headphones for themselves as an added bonus.

The difficult driving conditions associated with winter, such as poor visibility, colder weather and more variable road conditions mean that drivers need to be confident that their car will keep them and their occupants safe and sound. For just £25, drivers can treat their car to a 25-point check, carried out by Vauxhall-trained technicians. This will include checking steering and suspension among other key components, as well as topping-up vital fluids to ensure vehicles are ready for whatever winter brings.

Once the car has been thoroughly checked, customers can then treat themselves, with vouchers for coffee and cake, cinema tickets or a set of headphones up for grabs to make the start of winter a bit more bearable.

"Winter can bring with it some pretty nasty driving conditions; rain, wind, slippery road surfaces and longer, darker nights, so it's important to make sure that your car is winter-ready," said Alex Shields, Vauxhall's Head of Ownership Programmes and Personalisation. "Our technicians will take a thorough look at each car that comes in for a 25-point check, so drivers can rest assured that their car is in top condition for the difficult months ahead."

Customers can visit the Vauxhall website for more information, and to book a Vauxhall Check and Treat at a local participating retailer.

New Mitsubishi Eclipse Cross forecast to be amongst segment best for residual values

THE ALL-NEW Mitsubishi Eclipse Cross will offer some of the very best residual values in its segment, according to industry experts cap hpi, when it launches in the UK in January.

The automotive expert has forecast that the Mitsubishi Eclipse Cross 2 will retain up to 48.1 per cent of its list price after three years or 60,000 miles, while the Eclipse Cross 3 will retain up to 47.5 per cent of its value and even the top-of-the-range Eclipse Cross 4 will retain 46.9 per cent of its value, placing the new Mitsubishi SUV firmly amongst the very best in its segment.

It is also one of the strongest results ever achieved by the brand's vehicles in the UK, an indication of Mitsubishi's growing reputation as a manufacturer of high-quality and desirable SUV and 4x4 vehicles.

The news follows the announcement of the Mitsubishi Eclipse Cross's highly competitive pricing, which starts at £21,275 OTR, giving cost-conscious drivers even more reason to consider the new SUV.

Heightening its appeal and value is an extensive standard specification that compares favourably to its rivals. The Mitsubishi Eclipse Cross benefits from standard equipment such as Smartphone Display Audio that is compatible with Apple CarPlay and Android Auto, touch-pad controller, rear view camera, DAB radio with six speakers, climate control air conditioning, LED Daytime Running Lights, Lane Departure Warning and Forward Collision Mitigation (FCM), which uses radar technology to detect a risk of collision.

Also highlighting the Mitsubishi Eclipse Cross's value is the availability of a version that combines a petrol engine, automatic transmission and four-wheel drive for £25,350 OTR – the most affordable vehicle of its type in its class.

The Mitsubishi Eclipse Cross represents a bold new direction for the brand and is the first of a new generation of models that will position the manufacturer as a leader in the SUV market. It has been developed with a focus on three core areas – inspiring design, driving dynamics and technology.

The Mitsubishi Eclipse Cross offers a choice of three trim levels – 2, 3 and 4 – with, depending on version, either two-wheel drive or four-wheel drive. From launch, all variants are powered by a 1.5-litre turbocharged petrol engine, mated to six-speed manual or all-new eight-step CVT automatic transmissions. A 2.2-litre diesel engine will follow in 2018. The range is priced from £21,275 OTR with the top-of-the-range 4 version starting from £24,975 OTR.

Further Mitsubishi Eclipse Cross media information is available at www.eclipsecross.co.uk

Winter 2017 offers from Suzuki

SUZUKI Financial Services are pleased to announce their Winter PCP Finance offers across the range. A PCP (Personal Contract Purchase) agreement is an ideal route for customers who want to purchase a new Suzuki with a low deposit and a low monthly cost.

Its popular Celerio SZ2 City car is available for just £89 per month payable over 48 months after a deposit of £1,945 is made and with an optional final payment of £2,206 required to keep the car. As an alternative, a deposit of just £131 can be made to drive away an SZ2 followed by 48 monthly payments of £131 and an optional final payment of £2,206.

Launched in January, the Ignis SZ3 is priced at £10,999 and is available for £159 per month over 48 months with a deposit of £1,212 and optional final payment of £3,770. The Ignis range is very well equipped as standard with highly efficient 1.2-litre Dualjet engine, air conditioning, DAB radio, six airbags, rear privacy glass and body coloured door mirrors all included as standard specification. One year's free insurance and three years free servicing is also included across the Ignis range when the PCP option is taken up.

The all new Swift was launched in June and the 1.0 Boosterjet SZ-T is available on PCP with Zero per cent APR plus Nil deposit at a cost of £199 per month. This is a 42 month agreement with a final payment of £5,135. Swift SZ-T is highly equipped with DAB Radio, air conditioning, Smartphone link display audio, 16-inch alloy wheels and front foglamps.

For an additional £22 per month, customers can step up to an SZ5 manual transmission model which offers SHVS (Smart Hybrid Vehicle by Suzuki) for even greater fuel efficiency as well as keyless entry / start, Auto air conditioning, Dual Camera Brake Support and LED Headlights, all as standard equipment.

Moving up to Baleno, a customer saving of £2,000 is available on the SZ3 model and £1,500 on the SZ-T and SZ5 models when linked to the 5.9 per cent PCP agreement. Taking an SZ3 as an example, a deposit of £813 is required followed by 48 monthly payments of £159 and an optional final payment of £3,643.

For the Vitara models and highlighting the 1.6-litre petrol SZ-T 2WD, a £2,849 deposit is required followed by 36 monthly payments of £199 with an optional final payment of £7,486 to keep the car. For customers considering an SZ-T Vitara with ALL-GRIP or a 1.6-litre diesel engine, the monthly payments increase by £30 together with a small increase in initial deposit.

Standard equipment specification for the Vitara SZ4 models upwards includes seven airbags, 16-inch alloy wheels, DAB Radio with USB and Bluetooth connectivity, Cruise control with speed limiter, auto air conditioning, front and rear electric windows and projec-tor headlamps. SZ-T adds Silver 17-inch alloy wheels, Smartphone Link Audio and Navigation system.

For S-Cross models, a £2,500 Customer saving is included for Q4 when linked to a PCP agreement which reduces the list price of a SZ4 model down from £16,999 to £14,499. 48 monthly payments of £189 are required after a deposit of £2,621 and the optional final payment for this model S-Cross is £4,790.

A new angle on advanced technology: The new Audi A7 Sportback

AUDI has a completely new slant on the concept of the five-door coupé for the executive class – the first A7 Sportback in which the brand successfully combined the svelte lines of a classic grand tourer with the reality-ready attributes of Saloon and Avant models is about to give way to its successor. Fluent in the new Audi design language, conversant with the brand's latest technological advances and comfortable with articulating its most recent drivetrain developments, the 2018 A7 evolves and finesses every facet of the Sportback theme without losing sight of the hallmarks behind its original appeal.

Dynamics at their most beautiful:

The exterior design

The exterior design of the A7 Sportback is an expression of the new design language that Audi introduced with the prologue study and that made its production debut in the new Audi A8. With large surfaces, sharp edges and taut, athletic lines, the A7 conveys dynamism and progressiveness from every perspective.

Up front, the Singleframe grille – wider and lower than that of the Audi A8 – the narrow headlights, the boldly contoured air inlets and the flat front end signal intent. In some versions the light signature takes up the subject of digitalisation: 12 adjacent lighting segments separated by narrow intervening spaces evoke associations with the binary digits 0 and 1. The top lighting configuration is the HD Matrix LED headlight with Audi laser light.

With its long bonnet, long wheelbase and short overhangs the A7 Sportback looks lean and muscular yet also innately elegant. Its key dimensions give more than a clue to its character: It is 4,969 millimetres long, has a wheelbase of 2,926 millimetres and is 1,908 millimetres wide, but stands only 1,422 millimetres high. Pronounced contours emphasise the wheels, which measure up to 21 inches in diameter, and reference Audi's quattro genes. These genes determine the proportions of the vehicle's body. The silhouette is defined by the dynamic roofline, which drops sharply towards the rear.

As with the previous model, the tapered rear with its long luggage compartment lid terminates in a pronounced, curved lip from which an integrated spoiler extends automatically at 74mph and above. A flat light strip – a design feature common to all of Audi's top models – joins the rear lights, whose tail lights are made up of 13 vertical segments. When the doors are unlocked and again when they are locked, fast-moving light animations play in the rear lights and in the headlights, highlighting the imposing coupé's dynamics while standing still.

The progressive exterior design of the new Audi A7 Sportback is largely devoid of embellishment, and is presented in a choice of 15 colours, eight of which are new. S line models further hone the look through modifications to the radiator grille and the front air inlets, the sills and the front and rear diffusers. They are trimmed in gloss black and more strongly sculpted.

Broad-based electrification

All A7 Sportback models will be equipped with a new mild hybrid system (MHEV) for greater comfort and efficiency. With the V6 engines, this uses a 48-volt primary electrical system. A belt alternator starter (BAS) works together with a lithium-ion battery and achieves a recuperation performance of up to 12 kW when braking. At speeds of between 34 and 99mph, the large coupé can coast in freewheeling mode with the engine deactivated and then restart comfortably via the BAS.

The start-stop function has been significantly expanded and now activates at 13mph. In combination with the standard front camera, the engine is restarted predictively while at a standstill as soon as the vehicle ahead begins to move. In real-world driving, the MHEV technology reduces fuel consumption by up to 0.7 litres per 100 kilometres.

The new Audi A7 Sportback will initially launch with the 3.0 V6 TFSI petrol engine. The super-refined V6 turbo produces 340PS and 500 Nm (368.8lb-ft), propelling the elegant five-door coupé from 0 to 62mph in 5.3 seconds and on to a top speed of 155mph. In the NEDC, the entry version of the Audi A7 55 TFSI returns up to 41.5mpg, corresponding to CO2 emissions of 154 grams. The 3.0 TFSI is paired with a seven-speed S tronic twin-clutch transmission, and its output is profi-ciently managed by the latest iteration of the quattro drivetrain using the efficient ultra technology that activates rear-wheel drive as needed. Additional six- and four-cylinder engines, both petrol and diesel, will follow shortly after the start of production.

Produced at the Neckarsulm site in Germany, the new Audi A7 Sportback will be available to order in the UK from early 2018, with pricing for the first phase of models starting from approximately £56,000 OTR.

Stunning fightback earns Seaton first win ♦ Millwey beaten by penalty in derby

SW PENINSULA LEAGUE D1 EXETER UNIVERSITY 3 AXMINSTER TOWN 1

AXMINSTER Town dropped to eighth in the table after being well beaten by the Students on Saturday.

Uni took the lead 10 minutes before half time through George O'Neill but Gary Spiller squared things up in the 41st minute with a fine free kick for his third goal of the season.

Despite being outplayed for large parts, the Tigers, who gave a debut to former Chard Town midfielder Paul Nicholls, held onto their parity until the 75th minute.

Then Hywel Llwr was felled in the box, and Luke Barner tucked the spot kick past keeper Brett Garner who put in a fine shift between the sticks for the visitors.

And the pair linked again near the end with Barner bagging his second.

Ax manager Jon Hurford was realistic in defeat, he told View Sport: "The first half was fairly even, we were kicking into the strong wind and played some good football."

"In the second they [Uni] dominated and we were chasing shadows. When we did win possession we gave it away too cheaply and you can't do that against a team like that as you'll be punished. "Hats off to them, sometimes you just have to accept the better side won. Our boys put in a decent shift but were outclassed."

Next up for Axminster is tonight's (Tuesday) visit by Bideford (7.30pm) this is followed by Saturday's trip to face lowly Alphington.

Axminster: Brett Garner, Shaun Wells-Burr, Mark Scott, Dan Beer, Craig Every, Charley Skilton, Paul Nicholls, Nathan Warren, Gary Spiller, Tony Pinder, Sam Dibling. Subs: Jamie Barfoot, Mark Smale, Jonny Hurford.

The wind eventually ran out the overall winner in what turned out to be a rather underwhelming game at Cloakham Lawns on Saturday, writes Dick Sturch.

44th minute when a Jack Farrant cross was headed into his own net by Lyme centre back Wallace Blackmore at full stretch.

Five minutes into the second period Farrant broke away and came close to increasing the home side's advantage only to see the keeper scramble his shot away.

Lyme drew level when Julien Simier slotted home after Jake Bearpark had weaved through Millwey's defence and had his shot parried by keeper Jack Bennett.

Seven minutes later the Seasiders were awarded a penalty after Bennet was correctly adjudged to have brought down Lyme skipper Alex Rowe. Steve Batey strode up and dispatched his spot kick to earn the visitors all three points.

Round-up

with Collin Goodwin

SEATON Town came from 2-0 down with 20 minutes remaining to beat visitors Clyst Valley 3-2.

After a goal less first half the Valley looked well set before James Hill pulled one back, Josh French equalised 10 minutes from tiem and Josh Lund netted the winner.

Topsham Town claimed their first points of the season, winning 4-1 at Feniton with Aaron Pearse getting the consolation, but the points were shared at Witheridge who drew 3-3 against Uptonery.

Ryan Vickery, Dan Scadden, Tom Edwards and Mark Tucker clocked up the Uptonery tally.

Chard Town Reserves enjoyed a shock 3-1 win against Cullompton Rangers in Division One with Steve Friend, Darren Contreras and Jake Board finding the target.

Colyton are up to fourth after a convincing 4-0 win at Heavitree United where Calum Somers was the star of the show with all four goals, while the University beat Chagford 5-3 in the only other match to beat the weather in this division.

Reuben Sampson's brace and Andrew Davis' strike were not enough for the Moor-mens.

Second half goals from Sol Filleul, Adam Cowling and Stuart Richards earned Axminster Town Reserves a Division Two point in their 3-3 draw with East Budleigh.

There were 1-0 away wins for Woodbury and Axmouth at Kentisbeare and Newtown respectively.

Royal Oak won a cracking Division Three game at Otterton 4-2, Kev Pitt and Matt Lidstone scoring for the Rollers.

Offwell Rangers stay rooted on the bottom of Division Five after a 4-1 defeat at Dunkeswell Rovers.

In Division Seven Amory Green Rovers are up second after their 5-2 win at Newton Poppleford.

In Division Eight Matt Tidmarsh, Daz Cardwell and Dale Evans scored for Otterton in a 3-2 success at East Budleigh

FIVE AVRs travelled along the coast to take part in the GREAT SOUTH RUN at Portsmouth. More than 20,000 runners took part, making it the UK's biggest 10-mile race.

A HARVEY Denning brace inside the opening 25 minutes led Chard to a rare win in wet and blustery conditions at Sir John Colfox School last Saturday.

West Dorset rallied and were awarded a penalty flick but this was put wide.

The first quarter hour of the second half belonged to West Dorset who hit the post and keeper Richard Green had to make some scrambling saves.

The game gave Chard the chance to introduce two of their younger members, Ben McElroy and Jacob Boobyer who both acquitted themselves well.
